So, we're giving this one away for free.

Yes. Hopefully people who don't know us will get to know us better.

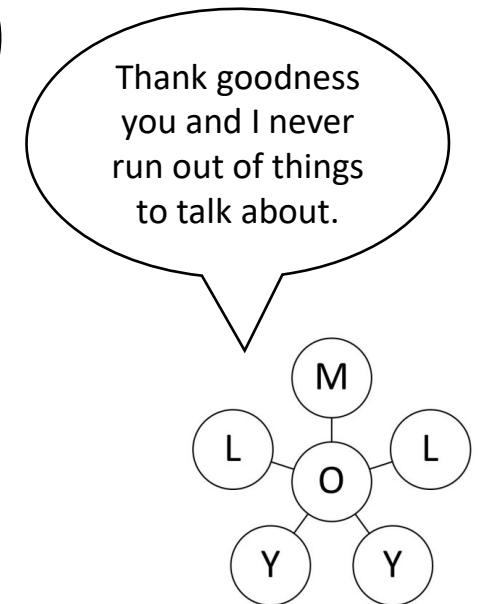

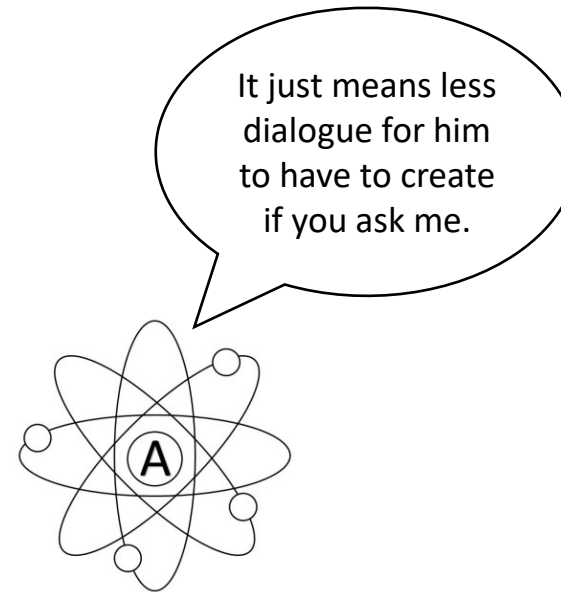

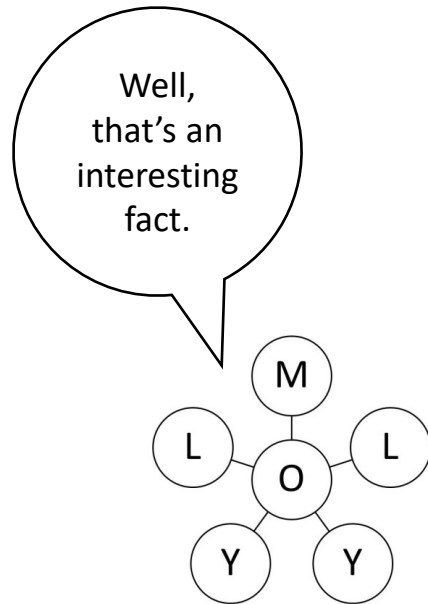

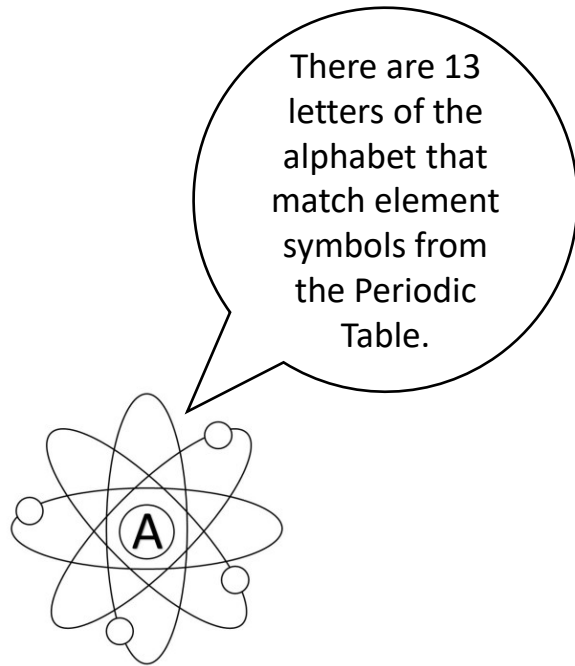

So, maybe the M in this book should be for Marketing.

I was hoping the O in this book would not be for Obvious.

C

Carbon

Carbon is the sixth element in the Periodic Table.

Carbon is what composes a girl's best friend.

E

Element

This is what the Periodic Table is made up of.

Each the most fundamental of chemical forms.

F

Fluorine

Fluorine is the ninth element on the Periodic Table.

It also reminds me to brush my teeth after every meal.

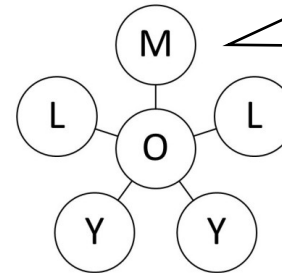

Atom & Molly's ABCs

“The World’s First Sub-Atomic Comic”®

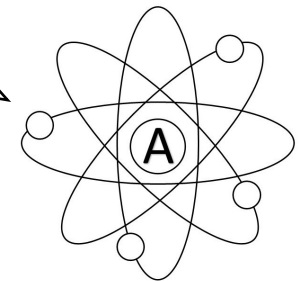

G

Group

The vertical columns on the Periodic Table are known as “groups”.

Remember kids: columns go up-and-down.

H

Hydrogen

Hydrogen is the first element on the Periodic Table.

And it is the most abundant element in the universe.

J

Joule

Oh, I love all sorts of jewels!

Um ... that's not the kind we're talking about here.

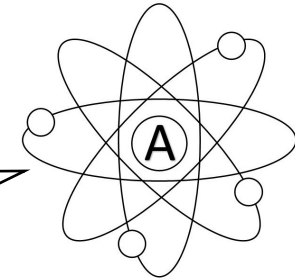

Atom & Molly's ABCs

“The World's First Sub-Atomic Comic”®

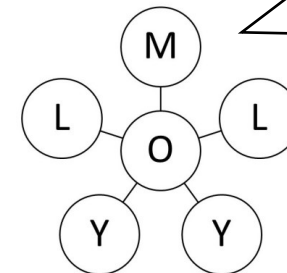

K

Kelvin

One of the three common units – along with Celsius and Fahrenheit – for measuring temperature.

I don't care how you measure it ... I don't like the cold.

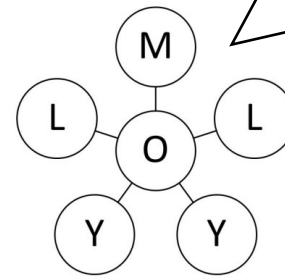

Atom & Molly's ABCs

“The World's First Sub-Atomic Comic”®

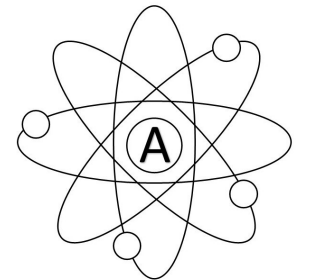

L

Liquid

One of the four states
of matter.

But a Jumpin'
Jack Flash
could only be a gas, gas, gas.

“The World’s First Sub-Atomic Comic”®

M

Molecule

That, and so much more.

N

Nitrogen

Nitrogen is the seventh element on the Periodic Table.

I'm getting hungry. Are we almost done?

P

Phosphorus

Phosphorus is the fifteenth element on the Periodic Table.

Phosphorus mixed with oxygen will glow in the dark.

Q

Quark

Our second book is called Quarky Quatrains. It's a book of poems dedicated to the Periodic Table.

Well, that was subtle.

Row

There are seven rows – also known as “periods” – on the Periodic Table of Elements.

A row is also something that you can do to your boat.

U

Uranium

Uranium is the ninety-second element on the periodic table.

Radioactive is a song on the self-titled album by The Firm released in 1985. If you didn't know this, don't be uptight.

V

Vanadium

Vanadium is the twenty-third element on the periodic table.

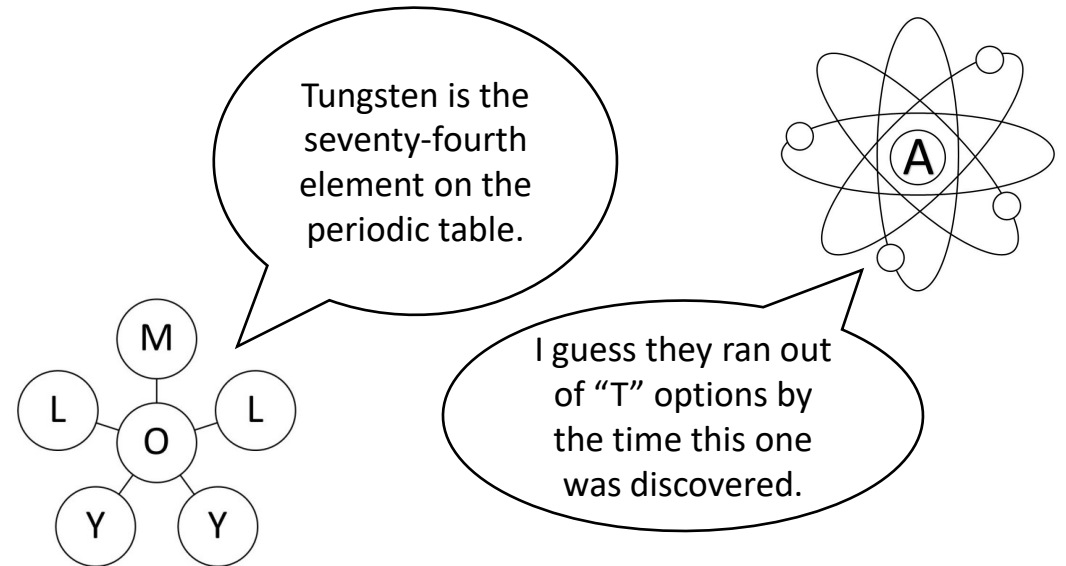

Well, that’s it for the vowels. Oh wait, except for sometimes Y.

X

X-ray

Probably no surprise there.

I'm sure most people are able to see through the word choice.

Y

Yttrium

Yttrium is the thirty-ninth element on the periodic table.

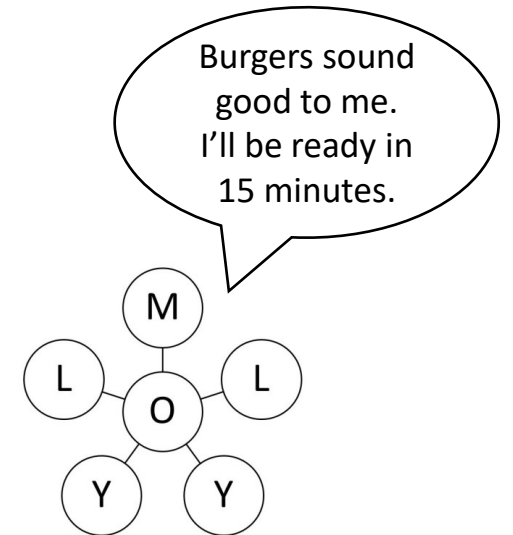

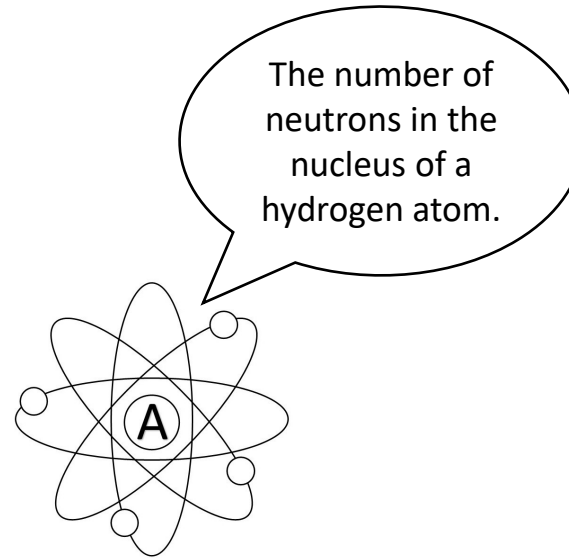

Not to be confused with ytterbium.
